Notes of inspection by the Assistant Superintendent of Police on the working of the Special arrangements on the frontier, and the village Sanitation

13th May 98

Visited Hoonse-katte, Nebbal, and Angod villages in the Davangere Taluk In none of these, is any attempt made to clean off manure from the old pots. But for them, the villages are all that could be desired from a Sanitary point of view. The attention of the Amildar will be drawn to this point

This

This is just the time for the villagers to cart manure to their lands.
I am afraid, if the empty pits are not filled up in time, they will make matters worse with stagnant water.

The Patels possess a thorough knowledge of the plague preventive measures, and the atti-tude of villagers is quite favorable to the introduc-tion of any precautionary measure, since they seem to have realized that the plague is more terrible than cholera and that its out-break will ruin villages

The village of Sidda has a draw-well sunk by the villagers themselves, which has three feet of water now & has to be revetted with stones, and the villagers expect that Government would do it for them.

No Sanitary work is in progress in these villages. They are as remarked above as to factory, except in the matter of manure pits.

The Patels are fully conversant with the instructions contained in the leaflets issued by the Plague Commissioner acting Amildar of Da-working of the frontier arrangements ordered by the Plague Commis-sioner.

To protect the frontier of the Davangere Taluk, it has been ordered that two con-
-stables should be located at each of the villages of Alur and Anaji. I found the order remaining unexecuted owing to the death of the Police Inspector, and the transfer of the Amildar and also arranged for the accomodation of the Constables in the village Chavadi at Alur.

Visited the villages of Baichur, Kadajje Alur Malaketti, Anap and Dyamavvanahalli

Found no Sanitary work in progress in any of these villages. The villagers seem to be quite willing to remove the manure to any convenient place, but the fact seems to be that the Revenue Authorities have not as yet made a Settlement of such sites As the importance of the Settlement cannot be overrated, the attention tention of the deputy Commissioner will be invited to this point

The Patels of the frontier villages have not-yet-been supplied with registers for noting down persons arriving at, or, passing through their villages Requested Mr. Potnis to give his early attention to the matter

Reached Beehod in the Jagalur Taluk at 6. P.M. The village is kept-neat and tidy The marginally named plague-duty constables appointed to this village are Satisfactory men, and seem to know, what they are expected to do Directed the the Duffedar of the Police Station to check their work constantly.

Visited the marginally noted frontier villages. No Sanitary work in progress anywhere. The removal of manure from the proximity of villages calls for immediate attention.

The Constables deputed for plague duty at Siddanjankote and Gadimakunte are noted in the margin Owing to the absence of Duffedar and Constables of the former Station, the Special duty Constables could not be seen. The Constables of the latter Station were examined and

and found Satisfactory

The Patels of the villages noted above have been provided with the required registers.

It is gratifying to note that the Patels have understood all the instructions issued to them from time to time as regards the plague.
